MISCELLANEOUS READING.

MRS. ROGERS IN LUCK. One of the proposed laws of the Michigan legislature is so short, as well as interesting, that we reprint it entire: "A bill donating Six Hundred and Forty Acres of Land to Mrs. Rogers, wife of Henry D. Rogers. "Whereas, It has been made known to the Legislature of the State of Michigan, now assembled, that Mrs. Henry D. Rogers, of Tittabawassee, Saginaw County, in said State, gave birth, on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1859, to four living, healthy children, in view of which extraordinary circumstance, and of the fact that the parents are poor and unable to provide for and properly educate and bring up the subjects of this remarkable gestation, and believing that it is the duty of the State to extend its fostering care to a family so extraordinary in its origin that the history of the world furnishes but few like examples; therefore.

"Section 1. The People of the State of Michigan enact. That the Commissioner of the State Land office be, and he is hereby directed to issue a patent to Mrs. Rogers, wife of said Henry D. Rogers, her heirs and their assigns, for six hundred and forty acres of State or swamp lands, to be by her selected from any such unsold lands; such selection or designation to be made within six months from the passage of this act, and filed with said Commissioner. "Sec. 2. The said land, when so selected and patented, shall be exempt from assess-ment or taxation, during the minority of any of said children."

GEN. JOHN JACOB.

The correspondent of the North American says of this officer, whose death is announced by the last news from India: "General John Jacob was the founder of that remarkable arm of service in India known as the "Scinde Horse." Horse" was also a cognomen by which this formidable troop was well known. As an irregular troop, it was, and is, perhaps, the best ever known. Jacob commanded it almost entirely, unfettered by orders from head-quarters. He ruled it as a despotic monarch. He was implicitly obeyed by his followers—they would go anywhere with him, dareany thing, and fight to the death. He was proud of his organization and of his followers. It was founded on his knowledge of the Asiatic character, and on the principle that the European was the superior, and must be considered and treated as such. Indeed, his system was based upon a similar principle to that by which Rarey tames horses. Colonel Jacob boasted that his men would have used any cartridge, greased or not, and yet his men. who, amid every temptation, never thought of revolting, came from the same places as the Bengal Sepoy. He is one of the few men whose place it will be difficult to supply." THE BRITISH REVIEWS AND BLACK-WOOD'S MAGAZINE. GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO SUBSCRIBE!
